Local Happenings of the Week

Otto Stuff drove to Eckleson last Saturday.

Chas. Eastman was a Spiritwood caller on Monday last.

C. A. Flynn of Eckleson was a visitor here on business on Monday last.

Ye editor made a visit to Jamestown on Wednesday last on business.

Edith Farley was a Jamestown visitor here last week, visiting her friend, Florence White.

Martin Graven of this berg made a flying trip to Eckleson on Saturday last returning the same day.

C. E. Creighton is installing a bath room in his house south of town. He purchased the fixtures of Anton Fried & Son of this berg.

Mr. Hendrickson, with the Imperial Gas Engine Co., made a trip to Spiritwood on Saturday last. After completing his business here he drove to Eckleson, N. Dak.

Walter Farley visited at the home of his sister, Mrs. G. E. Dunwell over the Sabbath. He is at present working out of Jamestown, with the surveying crew and is making good wages.

A near holiday "Hop" was held at the home of Herman Stoppewort on last Friday evening. Quite a number of young people attended and a good time was had by all.

There will be an entertainment at the school house at this point on Friday next, the last day of school before Xmas. This will be a little enjoyment for the children and also for their parents and anybody else that wants to attend. The teachers will leave immediately after for their respective homes for the Xmas vacation.

The annual sale on property for takes took place at the court house a week ago and this alone was an instinctive to many to pay their taxes and take it out on the clutches of the law, this brought many a dollar into the county treasure office and helped to swell the coffers at the court house.

L. B. Stoaks was a Jamestown caller on business on Saturday last.

J. E. Davison has purchased a new Moharch range of the Moharch agents in this berg.

Walter Hobert came up from Eckleson on Saturday evening to visit his parents here over the Sabbath.

The representative of N. J. Olson Seed Co. of Moorhead, Minn., called on the dealers in this town on Monday last on business.

W. H. Sisson and Robt. Stabenow came home from Jamestown after attending the court for a week and returned again on Monday.

Fred O. Fried made a trip to Fargo on Friday afternoon last, returning on Sunday. While there he visited most of the machine houses in that berg.

Ye Editor and wife and baby will leave on No. 8 Monday next for their old home in Minnesota to visit relatives. They will be gone for several weeks on a vacation.

Miss Brown, who has been working at Eckleson the past summer, visited at the home of her brother, Will, over Sunday. She is intending to keep house for him the coming summer.

Will P. Hayes was a Jamestown caller over Sunday, returning to this place on last Monday.

A little railroad wreck was had near this village last Saturday, when two freight cars loaded with wheat, moving east were dumped off the track west of town on the old "Yank" Warren crossing. One of the cars were badly wrecked and the grain that was contained in it, was hauled to Spiritwood and run through one of the local elevators and reloaded into another car, the other car was not so badly damaged and it was transferred into another car by the section man on Monday last and shipped on to its destination. The accident was a peculiar one in that the cars jumped the track right at the crossing and right in the middle of a long train that was making good headway at the time.

Old papers for sale at 5 cents a bundle at Gazette office.

Everyone is making most of the fine weather and are hauling their crop to market in spite of the low prices, while all those that are through with their hauling are having a nice time in this "summer weather."

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hamby of this berg were Jamestown callers on Tuesday. They staid over until Wednesday morning and while there took in the Minneapolis Symphony Quartet which played there on Monday evening.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Price on Tuesday morning, the 17th of December, a great big boy. Mother and baby are getting along fine and papa is feeling so big that he hardly sees anybody at all. Dr. Guest was in attendance.

Mrs. L. Squire is getting along as well as can be expected after her recent accident, wherein her right arm was broken by the kick of a colt. Dr. Guest was a caller again and attended her and although she is getting along in years, she undoubtedly will get along alright.

The new Methodist hospital committee, who was appointed at the annual conference at Williston, N. Dak., this year to inspect different places for a location for the new Methodist hospital, were at Jamestown very recently and inspected the grounds there, but up to this time they have made no statement as to their plans. Here's hoping that Jamestown gets it as the town is in very much need of a thing of that kind.

In this time of gasoline stoves it seems that it would be necessary to advise people to take care and be careful with the treacherous stuff. After using it a time people become careless and handle it carelessly and then is the time that the accidents usually occur. It is almost an impossibility to pick up a paper without seeing an account of an accident where gasoline has been the cause of it. Recently a woman was burned at Willow City and died from the effects. So it behoves every one that handles gasoline to be careful, not once, but all the time.
