

Moving to Minnesota

Albert Trapp is loading his household goods in a car at Wimbledon and will ship over the Midland road to Jamestown, from which point they will be shipped over the N. P. to Becker, Minn., where the family will make their future home.

Albert Trapp and family have resided south of here for the past seven years, and during that time they have made numerous friends, all of whom regret their leaving.

Mr. Trapp has purchased a 100 acre farm two miles from Becker, Minn., which is within easy reach of the twin cities. The land is situated along the Mississippi river and is ideal for stock raising, and will be used for that purpose.

Mr. Trapp will leave with the car Friday, but the family will remain until some time during the coming week.
