

J. B. ARMSTRONG TO SELL HIS HERD

Twenty-nine Head of Shorthorn Cattle to Be Sold on July 24.

A sale of more than usual interest is to be held on the J. B. Armstrong farm west of Hannaford on Tuesday, July 24, when he will sell at public auction 29 head of his splendid Shorthorn herd of cattle. This sale

No. 7727.

Report of the Condition of the F. M. Bank of Hannaford

will draw people from all parts of this section of the Northwest, as Mr. Armstrong's cattle are well known to breeders and farmers interested in pure breds, and a sale of this magnitude will attract buyers from far and near. H. O. Tellier, famous live-stock auctioneer, is to cry the sale.

Mr. Armstrong has been in the business of farming and stock-raising for a great number of years, and he feels that the time has come to ease up a little, and he has decided to dispose of his herd by offering them at this sale. It will be a rare opportunity for anyone interested in this breed to secure foundation stock for a herd or to add to their already established herds.
