

A letter from Edgar Gustafson conveys the information that he has resigned from the American Telegraph & Telephone Co. of New York, to accept the job of Commercial Engineer of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. with headquarters in Cleveland. The Ohio Bell Co. is one of the larger of the associated companies which constitutes the Bell System. It operates in all the larger cities throughout Ohio, with the exception of Cincinnati. It has about 475,000 stations (instruments). At present the company is working on questions involved in the consolidation of the Ohio State Telephone Co. with the Ohio Bell Co. Mr. Gustafson's new work is in line with the work he was formerly doing, but carries with it more organization work and responsibility, and is a step upward in his chosen work. Edgar's many friends in his old home town are rejoicing in his success.
