

HANNAFORD SCHOOL NOTES

The school program, which was given last Wednesday evening, proved to be a great success. The pupils all did their parts willingly, and we are sure, they deserved the splendid praise which was given to them. Much of the credit was due to the teachers who spent a great deal of time in training the pupils. We appreciate the interest which was shown by the community in our school work.

A woodpecker lit on a Freshman's head

And settled down to drill;

He bored away for half an hour

And then he broke his bill.

Last Wednesday the Physiography Class enjoyed (?) a field trip. Their ramblings led them a mile north on the N. P. track, across to the sheep ranch, and home via the north road. Many interesting and beneficial things were observed by the alert students, after being brought to their notice by the leader of the expedition, Mr. Rodgers.

Christmas Cheer

Christmas is a time that can be enjoyed by all. It is the time for a true, kind, forgiving spirit. Nobody can enjoy Christmas unless they have the right spirit. Money does not make anyone happier at Christmas unless it is accompanied by the true Christmas spirit. Altho these people can buy many things but the poor cannot buy they are always contented. Making everyone happy as well as our-forgiving spirit is something that can make everybody happy.—By Edythe Schneider

Christmas should be a day of happiness above all other days of the year. Why not every person of the wide world turn out and make Christmas 1921 one of the cheerfulness ever spent since the birth of Christ? It matters not what we give or receive if it be given or received with a true Christmas spirit. Christmas is a time when people should arouse their spirits and be gay. Although we have had troubles let us forget them. The Birthday of our Savior should be a day of great happiness. Bringing joy to others will make us happy. Let us think of something we can do at Christmas not only for the benefit of ourselves, but for the benefit of others. That is the way to keep Christmas. So let us all put by our sorrows and one and all make Christmas 1921 a day of joy and thankfulness. By Mabel Richardson

The High School pupils are selling Christmas seals for the benefit of the Red Cross. The two divisions of the Literary Society are competing to see which one can make the largest number of sales. Thus far Division A is ahead, having sold about twenty-five hundred in one evening, while Division B has not yet commenced. It is hoped that a great number more will be sold before Christmas.
