

.

HANNAFORD SCHOOL NOTES

.

Miss Pearson spoke at the school last Wednesday on the conditions in Armenia.

The Literary Society gave their usual program Friday afternoon. The question chosen for the impromptu debate was: Resolved that the invention of machinery was a good thing for the public. Robert Jones and Mary Armstrong were the speakers on the Negative; Eleanor Cederson and Dorothy Snyder were the speakers on the Affirmative. Prof. Johnson, Miss Nestos and Mrs. Chester were the judges. They decided two for the Negative and one for the Affirmative.

There has been a bulletin board installed in the High School hall.