Missos Clara and Olga Olgaard visited at the J. J. Hogness home Sunday.

Herbert Curtis was called to Gray Eagle, Minn., Friday afternoon, owing to the sudden illness of his father, John Curtis, who has spent the winter with his sister there. Later reports tell that John Curtis died Friday evening, and the remains will be brought back to Karnak for burial. His bereaved wife and family have the sympathy of the community.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilmer Carlson spent Sunday with home folks.

Miss Jennie Rising did dressmaking for Mrs. Minch last week.

Oscar Mosher went to Fargo last week to seek medical aid.

The community visitors of Karnak put in a full week last week. Monday evening at Wm. Ermatingers, Tuesday at the Edgar Curtis home, Wednesday at Reynard Kinn's, Thursday at Fred Mosher's, Friday evening closed with an Oyster Supper at Ed Ladbury's. The visitors were royally entertained and enjoyed their calls at all the above places. To be continued next week.

A. Youngbock spent Sunday at John Kerber's Sr.

Sunday was a very cold day. Rev. Wood did not get out to hold services. Sunday School was held as usual.

It is reported that Harry Ladbury and family are visiting in Montana before resuming their trip on to the coast.

The Bible Study Class will meet at E. W. Trapp's Thursday evening of this week. All welcome.

A. Ellingson arrived Monday morning to resume his duties after a week's vacation in the Twin Cities.
