Skating time will soon be over, and "over" as follows:

Two little boys one beautiful day,
Mumbled something, then up and away,

Hand in hand, away they ran,
But here's where the fun began.

The ice is slippery and clear,
But I've no skates that fit, I fear,

Said one to the other, "What shall we do,"

I haven't the dough to buy anything new.

O, come! said one, don't stand there and swallow,

I have an idea that beats yours hollow.

So along they stole like unto a fairy,
For you know our good neighbors had gone to Pillsbury,

John's pair will surely fit me,
For we are about the same size, you see.

On they went with greatest of glee,
For this was their first attempt this year, you see.

With strokes and strides, figures and circles,

They were beginning to think they were performing miracles,

When all at once a "crash" and a "thunder"

The stars seemed to appear in great numbers,

"Come, Howard, let's run,
This is enough, we've had our fun"

A Hard Time Social will be held in the church basement on Friday evening of this week. Every one, come togged in hard time garb, and enjoy the evening. Supper will be served. Don't forget your togs, or the date, March 11th.
