

in a letter to Andrew Fortney of this place, Lars Lerum, who with his family left for Norway last spring, conveys the information that he has bought a farm and will remain in his native land, and is offering his farm here for sale.