

Lars Lerum and family arrived here last Saturday from Norway, where they have been spending the winter. Mr. Lerum says that they experienced a stormy passage on the trip across the ocean, much more so than on the way over. Mr. Lerum enjoyed his visit in the old home country, but would not care to make his permanent home there. He is going to start farming again on the Peter Margach farm, which he owns.