

The mysterious disappearance last Friday of Nels Nelson of Luverne, has created a good deal of stir in that entire community. Mr. Nelson is a man of about 53 years of age, in good health and in comfortable circumstances, and his relatives know of no reason why he should disappear so suddenly, but the fact remains that he is gone and the frantic search of relatives and neighbors for several days has failed to reveal any clue as to his whereabouts. When he so abruptly vanished he was dressed in blue shirt and blue overalls, and wore a brown hat; he has a sandy moustache and weighs about 170 pounds.
