

Alph Overby, former Treasurer, has not been in his office for several months, except for very brief periods having been confined to his home by illness. His visit to the office Monday showed him to be looking exceedingly well compared with last winter and his friends are "pulling" for him in every way possible in the hope that he may wholly regain his health. During his last two years here as a county official he has won warm place in the heart of the entire community and has proven himself a most efficient public official.

The new Treasurer, Mr. Nelson, needs no introduction to Griggs county folks, having spent a great part of his life in this county, and the public is confident that the affairs of the Treasurer's office are going to be well cared for by him. He has appointed as his deputy his brother, Bert Nelson, who has been employed at the postoffice for many months.
