

William Westley and three of his friends from Jamestown College days, Floyd Rathman, during the past year coach at Cooperstown, Frank Brown, superintendent of the Tioga schools, and Jack Wilson, son of Rev. J. C. Wilson of Jamestown, left Friday morning on an extended automobile trip. They had no definite schedule arranged but the trip will last for several weeks, and they had planned to go as far east as New York City and Washington, D. C. They will camp out during the trip, and that they will have a splendid outing goes without saying.
