

To send money away for your goods when you can buy them just as cheaply right here at home is like robbing your baby to feed a stranger's dog.

The Griggs County Fair association has booked another big attraction for the fair this year, in addition to those already announced. Webster, the flying machine man, will be there and will make a flight daily. The board is making every effort to make this fair the best ever and visitors at the fair will surely get their money's worth this year. Look over the attractions in the ad on another page.

Sentinel-Courier: John A. Benson returned recently from Everett, Wash., where he had been to attend the funeral of his father, Andrew Benson, who died there April 22nd. Mr. Benson was an old pioneer of Griggs county and will be remembered by a number of our readers. He came here in 1881 and resided on the farm in Bail Hill township, now owned by his son John, for eighteen years, after which he moved to Washington where he remained until his death. Mr. Benson was over 83 years of age. The Bensons have the sympathy of numerous friends in their bereavement.

Effective June 15th compartment observation cars will be carried on Northern Pacific trains 3 and 4, the Northern Pacific Express and Atlantic Express. These cars will run through from St. Paul to Seattle and are in addition to the present equipment. With the installation of this observation car service on trains 3 and 4 this train will compare well with the North Coast Limited, making both transcontinental trains, between St. Paul, Minneapolis and the North Pacific Coast, observation car trains.

C. L. Berg shipped a carload of sand to Cooperstown last week. It will be used by Ed Savre who is building a house on his farm two miles north of Cooperstown.
