

be drafted, but a soldier's life appealed so strongly to him that he determined to enlist. He was at first rejected but he made further attempts and was finally admitted to Company B. Victor takes to soldiering like a duck to water, and we believe he will in time distinguish himself in a military capacity.

The death of an old Griggs county pioneer occurred July 16, at Manistee, Mich., when Fred Nielson died suddenly at that place from a paralytic stroke. He was sixty-four years old, and had been living at Manistee for many years past, but used to make frequent visits to the old place in this county. He was well known to all the old settlers in this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Hoff autoed in from Sutton Sunday evening. They came here with Victor Simensen who took No. 2 that evening to Fargo.

John Brekke, who has been ill for several months, was taken to a hospital at Fargo Monday, in order to be where he can be taken better care of. Alfred Gustafson accompanied him to Fargo.

Did you get that hunting license at the Farmers State Bank.
