

W. D. Sinclair received word last week that Elmer Sinclair had died at Phoenix, Arizona, after a comparatively brief illness of consumption. He had sought relief both in Idaho and Arizona, but to no avail. The remains were sent to Taber, Alberta, Canada, for interment.

---