

WEDDING BELLS

At the Lutheran parsonage at Moorhead, Minn., on Wednesday, April 7th, 1915, Rev. Martin Anderson spoke the words that united in holy wedlock, Miss Claire Kallander and Chester E. Jackson.

Present at the ceremony as bridesmaid was Mrs. Mabelle Brusegaard and Mr. O. E. Thoreson as best man.

Miss Kallander is a daughter of Mrs. Caroline Kallander, of Marion, N. Dak., and has completed several successful terms of school in this state; completing her term of school at Deisem just before Easter. She is a popular young lady who numbers her friends by her acquaintance and is well-endowed with those qualities that go toward making a happy home.

The groom needs no introduction to the readers of The Enterprise, having lived practically his whole life in Hannaford. He is the efficient manager of the Ely-Salyards elevator at this place, and being a bright and progressive young man, he has a bright future before him.

After a visit with relatives in Marion and vicinity the young couple are expected to arrive in Hannaford the latter part of this week and will start housekeeping in the Brekke house near the Lutheran church.

Their large circle of friends will join The Enterprise in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Chester Jackson a long, happy and prosperous journey together through life.
