

Mrs. Mabelle Brusegaard was an eastbound passenger Sunday evening, and O. E. Thoreson was a westbound passenger Monday morning. There seems to be no connection between these two events, but not long ago the editor was urged to offer a reward for information regarding the proper time for a shower rice for these people, but as yet no authentic information has been received. However, we publish whatever information we have upon the subject and each one may draw their own conclusions.
