

Cooperstown Courier: On Saturday while sharpening a draw knife, Lester Fogderud allowed it to slip and it cut a three-inch gash in the knee, exposing the knee cap and letting out all the fluid therein. One of the local doctors sewed up the wound and stated that he may have a stiff knee.