Philip Thoreson visited the High School Wednesday.

The Physics class are now spending their class period in the laboratory. The text book has been completed and the experiments are being taken up with the review work.

The High School has been practicing yells the past week, for the debate. We are all doing what we can to win the decision. Come out next Friday evening and boost for the home team.

The lower grades had a Valentine box in their rooms on Feb. 14th. Several of the little tots of the village were visitors.

The English II class is now studying the short story and the English IV class is taking up the life and works of the authors of the Renaissance.
