

DOINGS IN OUR SCHOOL

The pupils of the Intermediate room wrote essays on The Care of the Teeth last week. Phyllis Schmidt won the prize in the Sixth Grade and Robert Jones in the Fifth and Fourth. In each case the prize was a tube of Colgate's Dental Cream.

The grade pupils are all busy making valentines. Each room will have its valentine box on Thursday afternoon.

The Second and Third grades are learning the poem "Winter Time" by R. L. Stevenson.

Two half-year subjects have been started in the High School the past week. The subjects are Botany and Economics.

A new mode of Current Events is going into effect on Wednesday morning in the High School Room. Instead of having each person give a short current event each morning every person is going to be prepared for a five-minute speech and four persons are going to be called upon. This is good practice and enables one to get up in front of an audience better.

The High School boys have had some good hockey practices the past week. They now have more time since the debate is over.

The Adelphi Literary Society held a meeting in the High School room Friday afternoon at three o'clock. The following business was carried on: The motion was made and carried that we buy Rev. H. L. Taylor's set of New International Encyclopedias for the sum of $85. The motion was also made and carried that we get a company composed of one blind man and a helper to give a program in the Hall on Tuesday evening, Feb. 9. This man will talk on "Making One's Way Thru the Darkness" and will also play on the piano. The prices are 25c and 35c. The money that is made is going to be added to the money already in the possession of the Literary Society and is to be paid to Mr. Taylor as part payment for the Encyclopedia. The following program was rendered:
