

Hans J. Haugen was a caller at the Enterprise office last Wednesday. He stated that he had just finished a 35-days' run of threshing, and said this was the best run he had had in his sixteen years' experience with threshing, having had hardly two hours' delay all fall on account of trouble with the machinery. The two weeks' delay on account of rain was well utilized on the farm, as all the fall plowing was done at that time.
