

Mekal Mogaard, the newly elected county commissioner from the fourth district, last week returned from So. St. Paul where he had been to purchase a carload of heifers. Mr. Mogaard already has a herd of 73 head of cattle, and 23 head of horses. He is going to raise cattle both for beef and dairying purposes, and his farm is admirably suited for the livestock business as it has running water and one of the largest and best equipped barns in the county. Mr. Mogaard is taking a step in the right direction and will undoubtedly find his venture a profitable one.
