

T. B. Moore, a former resident of Hannaford, now located at Tolna, N. D., where he runs a dray line and livery business, passed through Hannaford on his way to Jamestown via auto. Mr. Moore looks the same as usual and his hearty laugh brought back days of old to those who remember him.