

A business meeting was held Saturday afternoon by the trustees of St. Olaf congregation at Walum. It was decided to rebuild the church which blew down in the big wind storm this spring. The wreckage of the old church will be used to build a barn on the church lots. The insurance companies made very satisfactory settlements for both the Walum and Eidfjord churches.