

Theo. Anderson and his little daughter came up from Dazey Sunday evening to take No. 2 to Fargo where the girl was to undergo an operation for appendicitis. The disease had evidently reached a critical stage for while awaiting the train in the depot waiting room the child died.