

The following item from the Sparta, Wis., Democrat, refers to the only son of Johnny Jackson who at one time clerked in Claus Jackson's store in this village, and was assistant postmaster. The boy was born in Hannaford: "The funeral of Oris Jackson, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Jackson, who died suddenly last Wednesday of heart disease, was held on Friday, June 28th, at the family home on Walrath street. Rev. McTavish, who is the Scoutmaster of the troop to which the lad belonged, officiated and Boy Scouts acted as pall bearers. The deceased was 13 years old on May 28th, and leaves his father and mother, paternal and maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Jackson, and Mr. and Mrs. Gus Heltman, besides numerous other relatives. The interment was in Woodlawn cemetery.
