
Carl Scott' Dies

Cooperstown, Dec. 1: The sad news reached the community this morning that Carl Scott had suddenly passed away. Mr. Scott was apparently in good health last night when he went to bed, and this morning was found dead in his bed. The cause of death apparently was heart failure. Mr. Scott was a well known figure in Cooperstown, having lived there many years and was employed as bookkeeper with the Albert Larson Company. He is survived by the widow and one grown up daughter, Mrs. Frank Gladstone.
