

E. Antonsen has been laid up for several days with a felon on his hand which threatened him with blood-poisoning. It is now improving and he will soon be able to use his hand again.