

Mrs. Olof Johnson and Mrs. Axel Johnson left on Thursday evening on No. 2 for a week's visit in Minneapolis. They had the unique experience of riding on the train which was wrecked near Vance. It seems that the engineer didn't stop his train even though the signals were against him, and the engine ran unto a derailer and landed in the ditch with its wheels in the air. Fortunately the train was going very slowly and none of the cars were derailed, and the shock could not have been very severe as the passengers in the rear coaches were not aware of what had happened until told about it. The fireman jumped just before the accident but the engineer stuck to his post. Both escaped without any injury whatever.
