

The Karnak News

Mrs. J. J. Hogness and daughter, Helen, returned from Fargo Monday morning, where Helen has been having some dental work done.

Joe Griesinger's new barn is about completed and it sure is a dandy.

Among those who attended the Auction Sale at Cal Ross' were Mrs. Ole Kravig, Mrs. Griesinger and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ross. They reported a good crowd and everything sold well.

A. Magnussen was a business caller in Hannaford Thursday.

J. A. Carlson, president, and Miss Emma Williams, bookkeeper, for the Karnak State Bank, spent Sunday at their homes in Finley.

We are glad to see Willie Magnussen out again after a severe attack of the flu. Also glad to see L. O. Harris out again, but regret to learn that Mrs. Harris is not so well.

Miss Hilda Kerber returned Friday from St. Johns Hospital, at Fargo, where she underwent an operation.

J. W. Kerber and family arrived Thursday from Denhoff, N. D., and will farm the place vacated by Olof Kalvik.

The following is a letter to Mrs. Earl Houghton from her brother, Alfred Magnussen:

Somewhere in France, Sept. 30, 1918

Dear Sister:

I will drop you a few lines this morning. I am getting along fine now. I have been over the top and had a shot at the Germans, and got a bad arm out of it, but will soon be alright.

The Germans are pretty near all in and the few that are left will get it before I come back home. I will not write more this time. Tell everybody Hello.

Your loving brother,

ALFRED MAGNUSSEN
