

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kimball, Mrs. David Palm and Ole Kong returned Thursday from a trip to Fargo, and have since been busy nursing bruises and cuts received while away on their vacation. This is the explanation they give, and as we know them all to be truthful people, we believe it: On their way to Fargo (notice to, not from, Fargo) Tuesday evening, in Mr. Kimball's Dodge they had a little trouble, which delayed them so by the time they reached Buffalo darkness had overtaken them and turning a corner the Dodge in an attempt to dodge the ditch on one side of the road failed to dodge the ditch on the other side, when it had to dodge trees and stumps which it could not dodge and finally came to a standstill hugging one great big tree with a grip it took a four horse team to loosen. While Mr. Kimball escaped injury the other occupants were more or less bruised and shaken up. Mr. Kong stuck his nose thru the windshield to get a view of the situation and has been nursing a cut on his facial ornament. Mrs. Kimball returned home with her arm in a sling but is reported to be improving nicely, and Mrs. Palm has had to keep to the bed since returning, but is reported to be improving.
