

Word has been received from Soren Krag, who had expected to be home from France about Christmas time, that he is still in France, and that prospects at present are that he will probably have to remain there for some time yet.