

Eric Stone arrived home Friday having been released from military service. Eric was in France for several months, but had the misfortune to be suffering from rheumatism and influenza so he did not get to the front, but at that he has suffered as greatly as many of the boys who came into actual contact with the enemy.