Don't fail to show up at the Red Cross Auction Sale Thursday evening, Feb. 14, in the Walum Hall. A swell luncheon will be served by the ladies and you will be sorry for a long time to come if you don't get in on this great feast. Nothing is being left undone to make this an event worthy of your fullest possible support. The auction will commence immediately following luncheon and there is a great abundance and variety of honest saleable articles to be sold to the highest bidder, only a few of which are listed below: Butter and eggs, one 14-foot steel farm gate, hard and soft coal, flour coffee and apples, some live stock, potatoes and grain, seed corn, and a great many others which take too much space to list. Be there! It's your duty to the boys in the trenches.

Christ Hanson and family spent the time between trains at Cooperstown Friday.

Word was received from Valley City of the death of Nicolai Swenson at his home there Friday morning at two o'clock. The remains will be taken here for burial in the cemetery west of town. The funeral will be held Tuesday.

Misses Selma, Minnie and Anna Olson went to Cooperstown Saturday
