

A Suffocating Cough.
In a letter from Mrs. Charlotte Lisle of Chicago, a lady well known as a contributor to the Western press, she ascribes the cure of a dangerous cough, accompanied by bleeding at the lungs, to Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar. "My cough," she says, "threatened to suffocate me, but the Honey of Horehound and Tar, has removed every trace of it."

Colden's Liquid Beef Tonic, for adults traveling, a wine-glass full may be taken three times a day with great advantage. Its tonic and nutritive qualities are sufficient to sustain the body without the addition of solid food. It is now recommended by the faculty as the best remedy for consumption, debility, loss of appetite, weakness, indigestion, dyspepsia, fever, ague, malaria, and all female and children's maladies.
Caution—See that the signature of T. Colden is on each bottle, as imitations are on the market.

Consumption Cured.

Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. A. Novis, 143 Power's Block, Rochester, N. Y.

MILLIONS IN SIGHT.
Uncle Sam's Hoard of Wealth in the San Francisco Vaults.
There's millions in it—millions of solid, solid gold and silver; not the figment—so to speak—of the thriftless visionary, but the tangible lucre that makes men opulent, that makes nations powerful, that moves all that is movable by human agencies in the universe. There's millions in it—in the vault that underlies the sub-treasury building. The doors are opened; the expectant visitor takes his hands from over his eyes; he peers in, enters, and Aladdin's cave is disclosed into the store-room of a retail grist-mill. He sees nothing but a solid mass of little canvas sacks, piled from floor to ceiling, homely as a grocery overstocked with breadstuffs. This is the principal vault, and each of these little sacks contains 1,000 silver dollars. There is no gold here. The vault is thirty-six feet long, seventeen feet wide and eight and a half feet high, yet it holds only 13,000,000 of silver dollars. The gold vaults are about as prosy, the money being sacked and piled in the same manner, each sack containing $20,000. It is asked, Where does all this money come from? The answer is that the sub-treasury—this mean, little, inadequate building—is the receptacle for the entire revenue of the government from the Pacific Coast west of the Rocky Mountains; from British Columbia to Mexico.
The business of last year amounted in round numbers to $38,000,000. Naturally it may be asked, why is all this money hoarded instead of being out in circulation? Paradoxical as it may seem, a great deal of it is in circulation. To all intents and purposes it is passing from hand to hand every day, doing its part in the great game of financial shuttlecock and battledore. It is represented by silver and gold certificates—a form much more convenient for business purposes, while the coin itself is stored in the vaults, away from the depreciating effects of abrasion and from loss by other causes. A majority of the twenty-dollar gold pieces in circulation have lost so much by abrasion that they fall below the standard weight. There are in the sub-treasury over seven thousand half-dollars that have become depreciated simply by ordinary abrasion while in circulation. This depreciation sometimes amounts to as much as twenty-seven dollars on a thousand. Gold being softer metal suffers more from the treatment. Hence, for this reason, and also because they save time and trouble in handling and are more convenient to carry, gold certificates are fast growing in favor. Besides there is an advantage to the government in issuing silver and gold certificates.

In receiving so many millions of dollars it might be supposed that an occasional spurious coin or note would find its way across the counter. So great is the danger that every piece and every note has to pass under the scrutiny of an expert. People do not realize the quantity of counterfeit silver dollars that are in circulation. Not a day passes that more or less are not offered at the sub-treasury. The assistant treasurer speaking of this subject said: "You would be surprised at the ingenuity that is displayed in debasing the different government coins. One of the neatest methods employed by those who engage in this species of crime is what is known as the splitting process. This is done by splitting the coin edgewise (probably by means of a fine saw), digging out the inside, filling the cavity with metal as nearly as possible the weight of the gold taken out, and soldering the weight of the two disks together again in such a manner that it will pass without suspicion among those who are not expert in detecting frauds of this kind. Fortunately this method of tampering with coin is so difficult in its successful accomplishment that it is seldom resorted to, and coins thus debased are not common. An expert at the business can take five dollars, worth of gold out of a single twenty-dollar piece. A short time ago a $100 note was presented at the counter. The receiving teller immediately upon taking it into his hand stamped the word "counterfeit," on its face and handed back. The proceeding startled the person who presented it, and he asked the teller, with an air of indignation, why he did it.

"Because the law compels me to do it," the teller replied.
The man insisted that the note was good, "but," said he, "if it is not good I could have taken it back to the person I got it from."
"You can do that still," said the teller "and if he demonstrates that it is a good note, you have only to come here and get your money." The man did not come back.

Spurious silver coins are detected more by their weight and general appearance than by anything else. Said the assistant treasurer, speaking of this: "They have got us on the ring of the metal. They can make their base metal to ring as well as ours." The detection of spurious gold coin is purely mechanical—by ringing, acids, weight, the eye, etc. "Experience teaches everything," said Mr. Spaulding. "A base coin has never been passed on us, but we have stopped lots of them on the way." To become expert in detecting the base coins men have got to make it a business, a study.—(San Francisco Call.)

It dissolves and expels them. Apply the remedy promptly. A test of twenty years warrants the assertion that no remedy has ever been found that is as prompt in its effects as TUTT'S EXPECTORANT. A NOTED BUT UNTIPLD WOMAN.
From the Boston Globe.

Mrs. E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., who shows all other human beings may be truthfully called the "Dear Friend of Woman," as some of her correspondents love to call her. She is zealously devoted to her work, which is the outcome of a life's study, and is obliged to keep six lady assistants, to help her answer the large correspondence which daily pours in upon her, each bearing its special burden of suffering, or joy at release from it. Her Vegetable Compound is a medicine for good and not evil purposes. I have personally investigated it and am satisfied of the truth of it.

On account of its proven merits, it is recommended and prescribed by the best physicians in the country. One says: "It works like a charm and saves much pain. It will cure entirely the worst form of falling of the uterus, Leucorrhoea, irregular and painful Menstruation, all Ovarian Troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Floodings, all Displacements and the consequent spinal weakness, and is especially adapted to the Childbearing Life."

It permeates every portion of the system, and gives new life and vigor. It removes faintness, flatulency, dizziness, all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion. That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use. It will at all times, and under all circumstances, not in harmony with the law that governs the female system.

It costs only $1 per bottle or six for $5, and is sold by Druggists. Any advice required or to special cases, and the names of many who have been restored to perfect health by the use of the Vegetable Compound, can be obtained by addressing Mrs. P., with stamp for reply, at her home in Lynn, Mass.

For Kidney Complaints of either sex this compound is unsurpassed as abundant testimonials show. "Mrs. Pinkham's Liver Pills," says one writer, "are the best in the world for the cure of Constipation, Biliousness and Torpidity of the Liver. Her Blood Purifier works wonders in its special line and bids fair to equal the Compound in its popularity."

All must remember an angel of mercy whose sole ambition is to do good to others.

Mansfield, Ohio, Nov. 26, 1871.
Gentlemen:—I have suffered with pain in my side and back, and great soreness on my breast, with shooting pains all through my body, attended with great weakness, depression of spirits, and loss of appetite. I have taken several different medicines, and was treated by prominent physicians for my liver, kidneys, and spleen, but I got no relief. I thought I would try BROWN'S IRON BITTERS; I have now taken one bottle and a half and am about well—pain in side and back all gone—soreness all out of my breast, and I have a good appetite, and am gaining in strength and flesh. It can justly be called the King of Medicines.
