It is estimated that 32,000,000 human beings die every year.

Some of the old railroad men are thinking of a process to paralyze and petrify tramps, so that they can be used as cross ties.

An Arkansas editor says that the stingiest man in his town talks through his nose to save the wear and tear on his false teeth.

Fogg argues against woman suffrage. He fears that the rib taken from man, if it gets into politics, will prove a bone of contention.

An image of the human head has been found 105 feet below the surface in a coal mine in Dallas county, Iowa. It is regarded as the work of a prehistoric man.

Maine alone made and sold 90,000,000 sticks of gum last year, and at least seven-eighths of it was chewed by women. A cotton rag with a little peppermint essence on it tastes better, lasts longer and is far cheaper.

The Diamond Match Company is set down as the greatest monopoly in America, making hundreds of thousands of dollars yearly without risking a penny.

Information has been received from one of the agents of the colony that about 600 Hollanders will arrive in Bismarck about May 1. Most of the 500 represent heads of families.

"My boy," said a politician to his son, "lean a little toward everything, and commit yourself to nothing. Be as round as a bottle, and just dark enough that nobody can see what's in you."

A Van Buren county (Mich.) couple are said to have gone to Chicago and obtained a divorce, and then proceeded to Dakota, where each entered land under the homestead act. They then returned and were remarried.

The latest mineral discovery in California is a soap mine. The "soap" is a deposit of fuller's earth, free from grit, and impregnated with potash. It is easily sliced into bars, and for cleaning purposes it is said to be a good substitute for manufactured soap.

Some great thinker once said: Don't commence to write an article for publication until you are full of your subject. An editor who intended to write an article on "beer" remembered this advice, and got so full of his subject that he couldn't sit on a chair, much less write the article.

A singular alliance has been formed in Belgium between alcohol and education. An alms-box for the secular schools is a recognized feature of every place where liquor is sold, and every customer drops into it his sou as regularly as he fees his waiter. A school building costing $400,000 has been built from the sou thus collected. The same plan is on trial in France, but at present without much success.
