

THE COURIER.

There is every indication that the action of the respectable old fogies of Harvard in refusing Butler the regulation degree that goes to the Massachusetts governors will prove one of the greatest and at the same time one of the most unexpected boosts that astute politician has yet had for re-election.

There is a clause in the new school law of Dakota which requires that every guardian or other person, having in charge any child or children between the ages of ten and fourteen years, is required to send such child or children to a public school at least twelve weeks in each school year.

Yankton's land office force is kept busy night and day attending to the rush of land seekers. Nearly all the land in the district has been once filed on, but a large proportion of the filings will not stick. Between forty and fifty relinquishments per week are entered at the land office and many pre-emption claims are being entered a second time.

Gov. Ordway has applied for an extension of time on the lease of the house he occupies in Yankton, the extension to run through the indefinite period "several months." J. T. Sargent of the Herald, has recently purchased the residence occupied by the governor and wants to move into it, but it appears that his excellency is not yet ready to depart.

Words of Wisdom.

The following lines are handed us for publication by Mrs. B. B. Brown:

Don't judge a man by the clothes he wears; God made one and the tailor the other.
Don't judge a man by his family relations, for Cain belonged to a good family.
Don't judge a man by his speech for a parrot talks; but the tongue is but an instrument of sound.
Don't judge a man by his failure in life, for many a man fails because he is too honest to succeed.
Don't judge a man by the house he lives in for the lizard and the rat often inhabit the grandest structures.
When a man dies those who survive him ask what property he has left behind; the angel who bends over the dying man asks what good deeds he has sent before him.
