

THE COURIER.

FRIDAY, AUG 31, 1883.

The corner stone of the Dakota capital will be laid Sept. 5, and the occasion will be appropriately celebrated, jointly with the reception of the Villard party.

If in the great struggle of life, in the toil and toil of the great heap of civilization you find yourself in the press, extricate yourself if you can, push your way to the outside—otherwise our great Western tracts—where your mind, body, lungs and pocketbook can expand. The subtle saying "there's room on top" has like a modern Juggernaut been the idol to which ambitious thousands have sacrificed. Break from the chains of habit and hesitation which bind you, and whether you are fifteen or fifty, there is a field for you here, and with the spirit of your forefathers burning within you, set forth, as they and "Go West."—Ex.

A lady writes to the Fargo Argus, noticing the attacks of a measly tenderfoot upon Dakota, and says: "I have lived in the country for nearly four years; have ventured on the open prairie in a tarpapered shanty two winters; and I don't think any of us would be taken for veteran soldiers, judging from the scars we bear. If the farmer of this territory can make enough through the short summer so that he can afford to toast his shins through the winter, all right. I think it is much better than lying in bed with typhoid fever or inflammation of the lungs and dozens of other diseases that we know nothing of on the prairies of Dakota."

Does Advertising Pay.

Following will be found a portion of an interview held by a representative of The St. Joseph Herald with Mr. Bullene of the firm of Bullene, Moore & Emery, of Kansas City, the oldest and most extensive dry goods establishment in the west. It gives business men a "pointer" or two that they should heed: "If it is a fair question, how much money does your house expend in advertising?"

"Last year our advertising bills amounted to over $10,000. This year they will amount to between $12,000 and $15,000."

"That is for newspaper advertising alone?"

"Certainly. The newspaper is the only proper medium for a live merchant to employ. I wouldn't give a cent a bushel for circulars, dodgers and signboards. When you find a merchant attempting to do business without advertising in the newspapers you can make up your mind he is not very anxious for customers. The people read the newspapers nowadays."

"You advertise regularly—that is constantly, I observe?"

"Yes, sir! Our contracts are for six months and a year. The 'dull season' is the very time to advertise. People are always ready for a bargain, you know. Our policy is to put as much money into newspaper advertising as into store expenses—that is, rent and light. All the successful merchants of to-day owe their success to legitimate newspaper advertising."
