

The new loan of the Northern Pacific is not to go upon the market without a contest, in form at least.

The Director of the Mint has given the public a statement of the amount of coin, bullion and currency doing duty as money in the United States on Oct. 1.

The Mines of Dakota.

If the Dakotans are wise they will not be overjoyed at the discovery of a rich mining district near Lisbon in that Territory.

Even the wealth dug from the earth does not remain. It goes away, to Chicago, to the east—to any point where may be the capitalist whose bold operations have made it obtainable.

Of course there will be a great rush to the new mines if they are even approximately as rich as reported.
