A report comes from St. Paul that ex-General Manager Haupt, of the Northern Pacific, after a trip over the Dakota and Great Southern line, has accepted the presidency of the same, and proposes to push the road to completion.

Villard's luck hasn't yet deserted him. He has succeeded in getting all the injunction suits against the Northern Pacific squelched, has the new $20,000,000 loan fixed in shape, and retains the management of the Villard system with every expression of confidence from his associates. His enemies, too, say that he is in even greater luck—that is, got rid of huge blocks of stock just before the last decline, and has got it all back again at bottom prices. On the whole, it seems like a very cold day when Mr. Villard gets left. But how about the other blind fool people who did not have their leader's blind luck?—Chicago Herald.
