La Moure wants telegraphic communication with the outside world.

It is estimated that five hundred miles of railroad will be built in Dakota the coming season. There are two or three times that number of miles projected.

The Dickinson Press reports that a hunter recently brought in an animal resembling an ibex; and old hunters say it is the only one of the kind they have ever seen.

Devil's Lake City is still struggling with the incorporation question. The Inter-Ocean says that a census has been taken, the survey made, and notices posted up for an election. This is the third attempt in this direction, and the town is only about six months old.—Ex.

About forty Chippewa Indians from St. Johns, Turtle Mountains, came down to our city Monday, with teams drawing hand made one-horse sleds, for government supplies for the Turtle Mountain reservation. The supplies arrived in two cars by the Manitoba road and were given the Indians under the general direction of Major J. W. Cramsie, Indian Agent, Devil's Lake reservation. They started yesterday on the return trip, praising the "Great Father."—Devil's Lake Press.

Canon City in Colorado, has more churches than saloons.

Adam is said to be the only man who never tantalized his wife about "the way his mother used to cook."

There are many vices which do not deprive us of friends; there are many virtues that prevent our having any.

A great revival in the first Methodist church of Jackson, Michigan, Rev. John Graham, pastor, has resulted thus far in over five hundred conversions.

Such is the location of Eagle City, Idaho, in the Cosur d' Alene mountains, that the sun does not shine upon it until eleven a. m., and then only for an hour, disappearing behind the mountains at noon.
