

THE LIME KILN CLUB.

Brother Gardner Reads a Deserved Lecture to Judge Perfection Smith. From the Detroit Free Press.

"Am Judge Perfection Smith in de hall dis evenin'?" asked the President as he laid aside his gravel and looked around him.

"Yes, sah," answered a voice full of fish-bones and shingle-nails shaken up together.

"Please ambulate dis way." The Judge ambulated. He came up confident and smiling, expecting to receive a gold medal for inventing a mosquito-bar, which also catches rats.

"Judge Smith," said the President in a solemn voice, "dar are few little things I desiah to spoke to you about. You war at de pos'offis de odder day to rent a box at $2.50 per quarter. All de mail dat you receive in six months wouldn't light a kerosene lamp. Den why dis attempt to frow on style an' heap on agony?"

"I didn't rent one, sah," replied the culprit in a weak voice.

"A few days ago," continued the president, "I overheard you trottin' out a presidential candidate for 1884. You had your biggest voice, an' you was fing-in' your arms about, an' one would have thought you knowed all about it. Judge Smith, you will have no mo' to do wid de makin' of de nex' president of de United States dan one grain of sand will have in makin' up de great Sahary desert."

"No, sah—dot's so, sah." "Let dis be a warnin' to you, sah. From dis time on you have no candidate, doan want one, an' take no interes' in polityicks beyond what can be spected of ebbery citizen. If any man axes you to tell him you am to be de nex' president doan you do it. Keep dat information locked tight in your bussum: An' a day or two ago you denounced yourself as an advocate of a tariff. Judge Smith, do you know what a tariff is?"

"N—not zactly, sah, but I was gwine to read up on it."

"Exactly, an' perhaps you'd better read up on how to keep your mouth shet on what you doan know and what doan affect you! You am a purty lookin' advocate, you am! While your wife needs shoes an' de children want clothes you walk around de market wid yer old white obercoat on to tell de world dat you doan believe in dis or dat, or dat you am wedded to dis theory or opposed to dat one!"

"Ize sorry, sah. I'll drap de hull business right off."

"See dat you do. Theories am all right onless a man am two months behind on his rent. Doctrines am all right when a family aint shiverin' wid de cold. Individual opinions count fur nuffin when de individual can't raise cash nuff to get a patch on his boot. Go an' sot down, Judge Smith, an' doan loose a minit in startin on de road to reform."

A Georgia Witness Who Gave Proof Positive That He Was a Son of Freedom.

From the Elbert South. The present Judge Hutchins, of the Superior Court of the northeastern judicial circuit of this state, is the son of Nathaniel Hutchins, so well known by many of the older citizens of Elbert as one of the cleverest men and ablest jurists in Georgia. He was the predecessor of this son on the same bench now occupied by Colonel Hutchins, of Gwinnett, and was popularly known all through the upper portion of the state. During the progress of the superior court at Carnesville last week this amusing incident occurred, which was related to a New South scribe by Senator Phil. Davis: Colonel Thurmond, of Athens, an attorney, had an instrument of writing in court, the validity of which needed to be proven and which could only be done by the owner of the signature found thereon swearing to the same. The witness was called and an old gray-haired man, who had lived over his three score and ten, took the stand and Colonel Thurmond handed him the paper and asked:

"Is that your signature, sir?" The old gentleman looked at the paper closely, and said:

"Wa'al I'll tell yer, Ize gitting old, and my eye-sight are not so good as it wunst was, but if somebody will loan me a pair of specks, praps I kin cipher it out."

A pair of glasses were furnished him, and he scrutinizingly gazed at the document again.

"Well," said the lawyer. The witness continued to peer at the paper.

"Very well," Colonel Thurmond said again, waiting for the witness to decide.

"Wa'al," said the old man, "that ar is my fist."

"You can come down, sir," said the lawyer.

But instead of "coming down," the old man turned his eyes on the court, and after gazing at him for some time, he said:

"Judge, is you old man Nath Hutchin's boy?"

"He was my father," answered the court.

"Wa'al, give me yer hand, Judge, kaze I loved yer daddy, and I is awfui glad to see his boy followin' in his foot marks."

The court gave the old man his hand, and after shaking it heartily, the witness stepped from the stand and started out of the court room. When he had gotten out of the bar, and was about midway the hall, he turned abruptly about, and said in rather a loud tone of voice:

"Here—here's them ar specks, if any of youns wants 'em."

The court room was in an uproar of laughter, but the old man never smiled, as he returned the glasses and left the house.

Underground Treasures in Turkey.

General Lew Wallace, in a recent letter from Constantinople to the editor of the Crawfordsville (Ind.) Review says:

"Speaking of books, or rather of writing, good Heavens! what an amazing wealth of material is lying here just waiting to be picked up, begging to be used; and to think nobody has ever touched it except poor old Sir Walter, and he only in his last days of glory. 'Count Robert of Paris,' strange to say, is his poorest work. Every paragraph, I was about to say every line in it, gives evidence of the tortures he was enduring. I read it not long ago, just to see how that brain, so saturated with the essence of romance, could, while quivering with the throes of neuralgic paralysis, yet deal with such fighting monsters as Count Roland and his ferocious wife. Apropos of them, Professor Grosvenor and I were on a tour prospecting over in Stambul, in the vicinity of the palace of Belisarius. We were waiting in front of an old mosque for the keeper to come with the key to let us in. I had just said that all this ground belonged to the Emperors, when, glancing about, I saw a washout in the earth. Looking down into the hole, sure enough, there, through a tangle of roots from the trees near by, we saw an arch of bricks. 'It is so, professor,' I said. 'Not only was this the site of the palace of the Comneni, but here is the very cell under ground which Count Robert had his encounter with the beast.' The mania for excavation is abroad in the earth; what a pity one of the diggers who go about among the bones of the Tothmes and the Priams, couldn't get privileges to look under the earth hereabout. As in Jerusalem, houses in Stambul are built on top of houses—one two, sometimes three deep. It is useless, however, to ask a teskerot for such a purpose. What you found would belong to the owner of the property dug up. Not long ago, a Turk was scratching the surface of his yard to lay the foundations of a new wall. He examined three statues of exquisite Greek, perfect, except discoloration. They were greatly admired. One gentleman is said to have offered $5,000 for them. 'Come back next week,' said the lucky finder. The party went back. 'Here, you can have them for nothing,' and with the words the proprietor showed a pile of powdered marble. He had employed the week in reducing the statues to dust."

It is Just as Cheap. It is just as cheap and a great deal cheaper to keep well than to remain in a state of ill health. You don't see sensible, intelligent women stand back and hug their prejudices when a remedy for relieving female diseases is brought to their notice. No, sir! They try it first and pass their opinions afterwards. Every bottle of Dr. Guyott's Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla sold to a woman will prove its merit as a reliever of those painful disorders incident to female life. Try it.

The latest reports from Mr. Alcott state that he is very feeble, and Miss Alcott fears that he can survive but a short time.

Petitions against the affirmation, in lieu of oath, in parliament bill, flow into Westminster at an amazing rate—largely from non-conformists.

A NOTED BUT UNTILTED WOMAN.

(From the Boston Globe.)

Mrs. Lydia E. Flaham, of Lynn, Mass., who above all other human beings may be truthfully called the "Dear Friend of Woman," as some of her correspondents love to call her. She is seasonally devoted to her work, which is the outcome of a life's duty, and is obliged to keep six lady assistants, to help her answer the large correspondence which daily pours in upon her, each bearing its special burden of suffering, or joy at release from it. Her Vegetable Compound is a medicine for good and not evil purposes. I have personally investigated it and am satisfied of the truth of this.

On account of its proven merits, it is recommended and prescribed by the best physicians in the country. One says: "It works like a charm and saves much pain. It will cure entirely the worst form of falling of the uterus, Leucorrhoea, irregular and painful menstruation, all Ovarian Troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Floodings, all Displacements and the consequent spinal weakness, and is especially adapted to the Change of Life."

It permeates every portion of the system, and gives new life and vigor. It removes faintness, fatigues, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and indigestion. That feeling of bearing down, coming pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use. It will act at all times, and under all circumstances, act in harmony with the law that governs the female system.

It costs only $1 per bottle or six for $5, and is sold by druggists. Any advice required as to special cases, and the names of many who have been restored to perfect health by the use of the Vegetable Compound, can be obtained by addressing Mrs. F., with stamp for reply, at her home in Lynn, Mass.

For Kidney Complaints of either sex this compound is unsurpassed as abundant testimonials show. "Mrs. Pinkham's Liver Pills," says one writer, "are the best in the world for the cure of Constipation, Biliousness and Torpidity of the Liver. Her Blood Purifier works wonders in its special line and bids fair to equal the Compound in its popularity. All must respect her as an Angel of Mercy whose sole ambition is to do good to others.
