 Peck's Bad Boy enables Mr. Peck to live in a $40,000 house.
 The man that lives too fast is bound to die too quick.—N. O. Picayune.
 De only difference 'twixt de proud and de fool is this; De fool's got the mos' sense.—Arkansas Traveller.
 Mrs. Bemis of Chicopee, Mass., tried to commit suicide by driving a hairpin an inch and a half into her neck.
 George W. Childs has 100,000 trade dollars, which he expects the government to redeem at their full face value.
 A German makes a good living in New York keeping a flower hospital, where he takes in sick plants to cure.
 A colony of 200 muskrats appeared in the streets of Charlotte, N. C., one day last week, and five men were attacked by them.

Stanley has visited the Congo valley north of the equator, and finds a dense and enterprising population of probably 40,000,000.
 In Jefferson county, Miss., 2000 people are rendered destitute and homeless by the floods, and the government is being called upon for aid.
 Deacon Weeks, of Hopkinton, N. H., at the last town meeting day cast his sixty-first consecutive annual ballot, and Deacon Currier his sixtieth.
 Elder Echols, the leading Mormon apostle of Georgia, has taken Miss Armitie Lee, the belle of Paulding county, to Utah to become his wife.
 Old Jeff Davis says he does not want to be pardoned, and that he would do it again had he the chance. His next rebellion will be in another sphere.
 Blaine has great expectations for this year. He hopes to make $250,000 out of the sale of his book, and secure a nomination and election as president, besides.
 The trade dollar will probably be converted into standard dollars at par, as a bill to effect that result was favorably reported by the house committee on coinage.
 The New York supreme court has decided that the money that a woman receives as insurance on her husband's life cannot be taken to satisfy debts incurred before his death.

Jacob Hoffman, of New York, worth $40,000, white-haired, and seventy-four years old, killed Mrs. Meyers, forty and fair. She sues for $40,000. He ran away on the wedding day.

 Mrs. P. J. Manning's one and a quarter pound baby was put in a tumbler the day it was born. It is still alive and growing. A twin brother weighed five and one-half pounds. Fort Worth, Tex., is delighted over the pair.
 The nephew of Delmonico, Christ by name, has entered into possession of all the Delmonico restaurants, and he had his name changed to Delmonico to meet the requirement of the estate. The restaurants pay about $250,000 a year net, which shows what can be done in the way of collecting from a dudsish constituency $5 a plate for spring lamb, $10 a bottle for apple cider and a dollar for a slice of roast beef. The deceased Delmonico was found to have dropped $750,000 last year in Wall street, but the duds soon made it up to him; at any rate, it did not embarrass his business or impair his estate.
