SCISSORS.
 Come all ye thifty Germans
 From the banks of the storied Rhine;
 You Swedes and you Norwegians,
 In emigration fine.
 You Scotchmen leave your heather,
 To your moorlands bid adieu;
 You Irish from Killarney's lake,
 Take up a claim or two.

Maryland goes for Blaine.
 Ex-Congressman Dunnell, of Minnesota, left his farm near New Rockford, Dak., to go to St. Paul and get scooped for delegate-at-large to the Chicago convention.

Lucia Zarate, the Mexican midget, while left alone for a moment in a museum at Cleveland, was carried off by two men, who dropped her when they found themselves pursued.

Broadaxe: What a sardonic situation it will be to be sure, if we ever reach it, when the Republican convention conducts Mr. Arthur to the door and throws him down stairs with the remark: "You have made one of the best presidents the country ever had—now git."

Sargent County Item: Somebody wrote us to know if we ever had any cyclones or wind storms in Dakota. Cyclones! wind storms! Why, man, an Indiana chap who was visiting us lately sat on our front porch and faced the worst gale we've had this season for an hour and then climbed up on the roof and tore off a shingle for a fan, saying he thought it was terrible sultry.

Rev. J. J. DeLo fell out with his Lutheran congregation near Troy, N. Y., and in his farewell sermon said: "I have nothing to fear. I cannot say as much for others, and I will be preaching the gospel when a majority of this congregation is in h—l." We expect he will be called to a wider field of usefulness as soon as the daily papers reach Montana. The congregation propose to tar and feather him for the sake of the example.

A case of genuine trichiniasis was discovered in Appleton, Wis., last week. Easter a family, composed of five persons, by the name of Werner, feasted upon a pork roast, the weight of which was in the neighborhood of seven pounds. For a few days following they ate uncooked pork sausage with bread, after which they began having vomiting spells and excruciating pains in the stomach. Their faces and bodies began to swell in the most alarming manner, especially the upper eyelids. There is little hope of their recovery.

Steele Herald: Mr. Jas. Laverty had quite a tussle with a mammoth prairie wolf on Friday week. On the south side of Mr. Laverty's shack a window pane had become broken, and on returning to the house he noticed that more of the pane was gone than when he left home, and on making investigations discovered what he took to be a large dog in his house, making way with his stock of provisions. Having no weapons at hand he seized a new pick handle lying convenient, made a noise and the animal made a break for the window. Then it was Mr. Laverty discovered that he had to do with a wolf. His wolfship jumped for the window and succeeded in getting half way through the broken pane, when a well directed blow from the pick handle smashed in his skull. The fellow weighed forty-eight pounds, was twenty-eight inches high, and four feet five inches long.
