SCISSORS.
 The Cooperstown COURIER has recently changed editors, Mr. F. H. Adams now having possession of the concern. The COURIER is one of the strongest Dakota flavored exchanges that the Times possesses. That is to say, its tone is resolute, independent and spicy. The editor has original ideas, which he expresses well.—Washburn Times.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK for June opens with a fine steel engraving of Alfred Ward's portrait of Helen Mathers, the celebrated English authoress, whose new story, "Dreeing of the Wierd," will commence with the 109th volume (July issue) of the magazine. This announcement has created a flutter of expectation among the readers of Godey's, inasmuch as the forthcoming serial is said to be the best thing Helen Mathers has written yet, and the success of her previous works would therefore justify great expectations. The present number of the magazine contains a sketch of the talented young authoress that will be read with interest by her many admirers. The story of "Tam," by Ella Rodman Church and Augusta De Bubna, has a happy ending this month, and fulfills the early anticipations of many delighted readers. "Tam" is a bright taking story of a popular type, and has made quite a hit for the magazine. The "Nut-Brown Maid" is also approaching a climax. We are promised next month a sketch of Agatha by a clever artist. Godey's for June contains a great deal of spirited and readable matter. "The Ship of Fate," by Clarence Du Bois is especially notable; the theme of the story is a matter of history. In addition to the articles mentioned, the magazine contains the following stories, poems, etc., besides the usual handsome illustrations and supplements: "The House upon the Sands," by Helen Hamilton; "Dreams of Yesterday," by George Birdseye; "In Love's Defence," by Thos. S. Collier; "Peggy and Hop Light Loo," by Mary Beale Brainerd; "A Fisherman's Luck," by L. E. C.; "A Child of the People," by Emily Lennox; "From Different Points," by J. M.; "Abijah Beapole, Storekeeper," by the author of "The Bad Boy's Dairy," "Art Notes," "John Tyler," "Fashion Descriptions and Notes," "Household Notes," by Ella Rodman Church, "Work Department," "Arm Chair," "Book Table," "Recipes."

BALLOU'S MAGAZINE FOR JUNE.
 The June number of Ballou's Magazine opens with an illustrated article on Royal Worcester Ware, which will prove interesting to lovers of handsome china. Then follows a liberal installment of that popular yarn, called "On Land and Sea; or, California in the Years 1843, '44 and '45," by William H. Thomas, author of "The Belle of Australia," and "Running the Blockade." In this part a thrilling description is given of the beating into Monterey harbor of the United States sloop-of-war Cheyenne, in the teeth of a southeast gale, one day in April, 1843. It is worth reading. There is also an account of a deer hunt in the pine woods of Monterey, the quelling of an incipient mutiny, a little love-making, and other interesting subjects. Ballou's also contains the usual interesting amount of miscellaneous matter, some nice poetry, engravings, humorous notes, and many other things which we have not time to notice. It is a good number, and all readers will be pleased with it. Send 10 cts. for a sample copy, and see what it is like. Only $1.50 per year, or 15 cents single number. Thomas & Talbot, 23 Hawley street, Boston.
