

Our Neighbors' Opinions.
It is one of the anomalies of our district organization, that Griggs county should go into the district convention with six delegates and Foster with only two. The probability is that the population of Griggs is really but very slightly, if any, in excess of that of Foster. That matter will be remedied, however before the next election.—Carrington News.

One of the marvels of the Ninth legislative district is the fact that its convention, composed of fifty intelligent men, should be practically at the disposition and under the control of Mr. Alexander McKenzie. We do not think that it is an unfair inference that the convention was so controlled, and it is a striking illustration of the practical working of the delegate system.—Carrington News.

Griggs county put herself on record today as being in sympathy with the capital ring at Bismarck. Julius Stevens, a man upon whom we had always looked as being a man of his word, deserted his known friends in Barnes county, and allied himself with the enemy, selling out his county for a nomination as representative and the permanent chairmanship. This is Mr. Stevens' first experience in office seeking, and we had certainly looked for something more honorable.—Barnes County Record.

The credential committee was composed of D. C. Buck, of Stutsman; O. C. Serungard, of Griggs; E. A. Lilly, of Burleigh; Sam Foster, of Logan; and J. J. Luck, of Morton, the latter four of which were branded by all as accomplices to one of the foulest, boldest, most deliberate and damnable schemes that ever disgraced mankind.—Dawson Globe.

The delegation from our neighbor on the north, Griggs county, was placed in a rather unenviable light in the course pursued at the legislative convention, by voting steadily against the regular Barnes county delegation. Griggs had it within her power to admit our delegates, but owing to the terror of their candidate for the "powers that be," the Cooperstown delegation sat down on us. Evidently, they do not expect another county-seat contest soon.—Sanborn Enterprise.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.
Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering or crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children's Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children's Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle.
