

VANDERBILT'S LOSSES.

Many Millions Said to Have Been Dropped in Speculation.

There is no doubt that William H. is a much poorer man than he was two years ago. In fact his losses on account of unfortunate speculations, and especially of those of his sons, are estimated at from $30,000,000 to $50,000,000. Since the old Commodore died, Cornelius and William K. Vanderbilt have speculated heavily with disastrous results, and their father, William H., has been obliged to shoulder their losses. It is now a matter of current report that the elder Vanderbilt has been hardly pinched for ready cash, and that his immense fortune has rapidly been diminishing. The Wall-street brokers are very reticent when questioned about the matter and decline to be quoted, but they admit the rumors of Vanderbilt's losses are well founded. When the old commodore died he left Cornelius $5,000,000 and William K. $2,000,000. These amounts, it is said, were first invested in United States bonds, which yielded Cornelius an income of $200,000 and William K. about $80,000 a year. These incomes, however, were not sufficient to keep their families in the style in which they had been accustomed to live, and the two brothers, instead of living within their income, went into stock speculations and lost. Their losses were very heavy, and their father was called upon to make them good. The various brokers of Cornelius on Wall street decline to talk about his losses, and say that they have no right to reveal the business of their customers. They will not deny that he has lost, but say that he is abundantly able to pay, inasmuch as he has his father's income to back him.

"For two or three years he has been loaded with stocks," said a well-informed broker yesterday. "He purchased them at high prices, and since there has been a very heavy falling off. His brother went into speculation about the same time, but, as his fortune was not as large as that of Cornelius, he went under first. At the time they went into their Fifth-avenue palace their mania for speculation first showed itself.

"Some time ago William K. appealed to his father for aid, and although the latter has denied that he has given his son any financial assistance, there is no doubt that he assumed all his son's holdings of stock at a price to relieve him of loss. William H.'s entry into the stock market and his alliance with Jay Gould dated from that time. He did this in order to unload the securities that had come into his possession in the manner stated.

"Cornelius was loaded with a line of general stocks, which had for a long time been depreciating, and he had a heavy lot of Lake Erie and Western which had depreciated in value since the highest price in 1881 nearly $7,000,000. Cornelius, I am told, had from 30,000 to 35,000 shares of this stock. What his losses are it is impossible to tell, but they were shouldered by his father, who is a heavy loser. He went to Europe in May last and was not here to take care of his holdings at the time of the panic and the great depressions in prices. Cornelius has fled to Europe now. He was always considered a very conservative and pious man, as he was vestryman in St. Bartholomew's Church, where he passed around the plate."

The financial trouble of the Vanderbilts has been a subject of gossip in Wall street as well as uptown, where it is said that the elder money king is in much trouble.—N. Y. World.

Storm Signals.
As the coming of a great storm is heralded by the display of cautionary signals, so is the approach of that dread and fatal disease Consumption of the lungs, usually announced in advance by pimples, blotches, eruptions, ulcers, glandular swellings, and kindred outward manifestations, of the internal blood poison, which, if not promptly expelled from the system, attacks the delicate tissues of the lungs, causing them to ulcerate and break down. Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" is the great remedy for this, as for all diseases having their origin in bad blood. It improves the appetite and digestion, increases nutrition and builds up the wasted system.

Almost every case cured with

PERRY DAVIS' Pain-Killer

[From Rev. R. TELFORD, missionary in China, now visiting his home in Pennsylvania.]

DEAR SIR:—During a residence of some ten years as a missionary in the Province of Szechuan, I have seen Asiatic Cholera most valuable remedy for this fearful scourge, the cholera. In administering the medicine, I found it most effectual to give a teaspoonful of Pain-Killer in a full glass of water, sweetened with sugar, then, after about fifteen minutes, begin to give about a teaspoonful of the same mixture every few minutes until relief was obtained. Apply hot applications to the extremities. Bathe the stomach with the Pain-Killer clear, and the limbs liberally. Of those who had the cholera, and took the medicine faithfully in the way stated above, eight out of ten recovered.

Truly yours,
R. TELFORD.

The late Rev. Dr. Granger repeatedly expressed his belief that he owed his life to the timely use of PERRY DAVIS' PAIN-KILLER. During a recent visit to the mission in Burma, he had a severe attack of the cholera, and was immediately relieved by the use of the Pain-Killer.

The GRANDEST PREMIUM and a Long Loan at 4 per cent

Visitors to the Dore Gallery, London, will remember the great painting, covering nearly an entire end of the gallery, entitled "Christ Leaving the Praetorium." This masterpiece is the grandest and most valuable work of art ever painted. It is the property of the Chicago Globe, and is offered for sale at the price of $5 per copy, or $40 U. S. money. Custom duties and ocean express bring the cost to American purchasers to $60. A copy cannot be secured for less except from the publishers of "THE CHICAGO GLOBE." Every future subscriber to this paper, however, can secure a copy of this, the most valuable work of art ever issued in the form of an engraving, by sending $2.00 in addition to the subscription price, to pay for express and properly packing, or postage, if sent by mail. The publishers of the Chicago Globe have contracted for the entire American edition, our order being for $50,000 copies, we paying cost of American plate.

THE LARGEST CIRCULATION AND THE LONGEST. Can only be Secured by Dividing Profits with subscribers. In the form of long time loan per cent loans.

Any subscriber is privileged to apply for a loan, to be made out of advertising profits, the amount borrowed being permitted to remain unpaid as long as borrower remains a subscriber, and keeps the interest paid. $4 per cent. On the basis of 250,000 circulation (which will probably be doubled) the business and profits will approximate as follows: RECEIPTS: 250,000 subscribers, $50,000,000 in advertising, $2,500 per line, $16 per inch, $2 issues, $175,000; EXPENSES: $1 for paper and press work, $2,500,000 copies, $2,500,000; editorial work, office repairs, etc., $2,500,000; premium engravings, $25,000; incidentals, $10,000—total, $25,000,000; leaving a net profit of $12,500,000. For this enormous profit, the Chicago Globe depends on its 250,000 subscribers, for advertising, for a tenth of the amount. Therefore, as subscribers are doing us a favor when they send us their names, we desire to turn it to their favor. Any subscriber who desires to borrow from $100 to $500 at 4 per cent, the principal to stand if desired, as long as borrower remains a subscriber, should so state when he orders the premium. In such case—

The Subscription Price, $2.00, need not be sent, as it can be deducted when loan is made

And subscription begins. Your individual note is all the security asked; provided you will send the names of several of your neighbors to whom we can refer, not as to the amount of property you are worth, but as to good character.

CONDITIONS: Loans made at 4 per cent, not less than $100 nor more than $500. First year's interest at 4 per cent, and the subscription price to be deducted from amount loaned. If the subscriber does not apply for a loan, the subscription price must be sent in advance. If a loan is desired, no money need be sent for subscription, the charges for the Premium, etc., only being required, as the subscription and first year's interest can be deducted from the loan. Every subscriber must accept as a condition of receiving the Premium, that he will supply it in a conspicuous place in his house or office, and inform those who call how and where he secured it. Postage on this must be paid. Every Premium sent to subscribers additional subscribers need not be entered unless the charges on the Premium are sent. These charges, etc., have nothing to do with the subscription price, and hence cover cost, delivery, and properly packing or postage, if sent by mail. The Premium will be sent at once.
