

HANNAFORD.

Hannaford is still on the map.
 Soren Berg is building a good foundation for his house, which will probably be erected this fall.
 Jack Stewart got enough of Utah, and has bought 3 quarters south of town and is building thereon. The next one that induces Jack to sell will have to talk some.
 Gunder Gunderson is building a good house.
 N. J. Olson's house at Shepard was struck by lightning Sunday night and a few shingles scattered.
 The Great Western will build at the new siding south of town, which is going to be a great point for grain this fall.
 Men have come in in sufficient quantities to supply all needs.
 Ground has been broken for Presbyterian church here, and if a suitable bid is received, work will be begun at once.
 Don't forget the elocutionary contest next Saturday night.
 Wanted—good man to work in elevator. Steady work for right man.

Geo. Gunderson's little girl was buried Monday. Pneumonia claiming her. Death seems to be exceedingly busy this summer.
 A well driller can get several jobs in this vicinity.
 Ole Larson has sold his threshing outfit.
 Donald Campbell has bought a 30 horse power Nicols & Shepard engine and will run 2 rigs.
 Fred Beyers was here Monday straightening up a few kinks in our elevator.
 Rob. Hill has filed on a claim in the Washburn country and probably will move there this fall. Syver Isaacson also secured one.
 N. P. Carpenters are fixing up the office in depot in good shape.
 Claus Jackson now draws reins over a fine span of drivers.
 Martin Wallum is happy in the possession of a new Northwest threshing outfit.
 The train service nowadays is a beauty, a dream of joy as far as moving cars is concerned. Wonder if the N. P. will ever recognize and give us what the business demands.
