

CHROMATIC AFFLICTION.

Facial indications in the Case of a Biblical Patient Suggested the Rainbow.

A Virginia reader sends a story told by the late Alban S. Payne as an actual occurrence, says the Philadelphia Times. It concerned a hard-drinking, hard-drinking young Englishman, who settled near Linden, that state, in the expressed hope that the rustic surroundings would prove an aid in ridding him of his abnormal thirst. But he clung to his old habits, and soon became a connoisseur in moonshine distillations, rather preferring them, after a time, to those bearing the government stamp. His face was a mingled purple and sunset red, the joint product of whisky and an open-air life; and he had nothing of charm apart from his faultless manners to offer the pretty mountain girl who consented to become his wife. One afternoon he was carried home, pretty well muzzed up as the result of a fall. The gravel of the roadside, the green of the grass and the smear from some cuts added to the colorfulness of his countenance; and the young wife, when Dr. Payne arrived, rushed out on the porch, exclaiming: "Oh, doctor! doctor! go in to him—quick! He has all the diseases of the rainbow!"

Lionel Arden.

One of the new novels of exceptional merit, builded along historical lines, "Lionel Arden," by Malcolm Dearborn. Like many of the novels of the time it takes its name from that of the hero. The scene is England and the time that of Henry VIII., and through to Queen Elizabeth. The hero, Lionel Arden, is the son of Lord Arden, who is killed in a duel with Lord Raven, and his death is quickly avenged by the young son. The story follows the entrance of the hero into English court life, and contains some brilliant descriptions of the most interesting scenes of those times. One of the principal characters is Lady Jane Grey, who is, in fact, the real heroine. This is the only novel that has ever brought to the sympathy and admiration of story readers that woman's purity and exalted character. Published by G. W. Dillingham Company, New York. Price, $1.50.

In the Proper Order.

"But can you cook?" asked the prosaic young man. "Let us take these questions up in their proper order," returned the wise girl. "The matter of cooking is not the first to be considered."

"Then what is the first?" he demanded. "Can you provide the things to be cooked?"

"There's one thing I admire about you," said the frank friend. "You carved out your own fortunes, and yet you never brag about being a self-made man."

On the Verge of Bright's Disease.—A Quick Cure that Lasted.

CASE NO. 30,611.—C. E. Boies, dealer in grain and feed, 505 South Water Street, Akron, O., made the following statement in 1896, he said: "Ever since the Civil War I have had attacks of kidney and bladder troubles, decidedly worse during the last two or three years. Although I consulted physicians, some of whom told me I was verging on Bright's disease, and I was continually using standard remedies, the excruciating aching just across the kidneys, which radiated to the shoulder blades, still existed. As might be expected when my kidneys were in a disturbed condition, there was a distressing and inconvenient difficulty with the action of the kidney secretions. A box of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Lamparter & Co.'s drug store, brought such a decided change within a week that I continued the treatment. The last attack, and it was particularly aggravated, disappeared."

Three Years After.

Mr. Boies says in 1899: "In the spring of 1896 I made a public statement of my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills. This remedy cured me of a terrible aching in the kidneys, in the small of my back, in the muscles of the shoulder blades, and in the limbs. During the years that have gone by I can conscientiously say there have been no recurrences of my old trouble. My confidence in Doan's Kidney Pills is stronger than ever, not only from my personal experience but from the experience of many others in Akron which have come to my notice."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mr. Boies will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all druggists, price 50 cents per box.

A PUBLIC CHRISTENING.

The Minneapolis & St. Louis Railroad will Let the Public Choose a Name for Its Elegant New Chicago Train.

In reply to Shakespeare's famous query, "What's in a name?" the Minneapolis & St. Louis road has decided that there's a good deal in just the right title, especially when it comes to trains. On Nov. 2 the M. & St. L. is to inaugurate its new service through Minnesota, Iowa and Illinois to Chicago and inasmuch as the new train is for the benefit of the public, A. B. Cutts, general passenger agent of the M. & St. L. has decided to let the public do the christening.

For the best name submitted for the new train, a prize of one bright $20 gold piece will be paid.

In addition, if the best name is submitted by a public school pupil, there will be a $5 gold piece for the prize winner beside the $20 coin. Mr. Cutts makes this special inducement to the children because he believes the youngsters are full of bright ideas which should be encouraged.

The past decade has seen giant strides made in the art of car building. Luxuries which only a few years ago were supposed to be reserved for millionaires have been provided to obviate the discomforts of travel and to attract tourists to some particular route. With the palatial train, came the custom of names which suggested in some way the character of the equipment, or were appropriate to the road. Thus the B. & O. road has the Royal Blue; the Lehigh Valley, the Black Diamond Express; the New York Central, the Empire State Express, which found its way onto the Pan American postage stamps; the Canadian Pacific, the Imperial Limited and so on through the catalogue of expresses, limiteds and flyers.

The new train of the M. & St. L. is the latest work of the Pullman company to be introduced by any Twin City-Chicago line, and that means it embodies all the best and latest ideas with regard to luxury, comfort and elegance. In addition to the sleepers and coaches it has a library and buffet car which is a veritable club house on wheels. Going into Chicago a diner will be attached for breakfast and dinner will be served in the evening under a similar arrangement. The interior finish of the train is uniform, being mahogany, and the exterior is done in the handsome, dark olive green which is so artistically employed by the Pullman company.

The name for this train must be pat and euphonious; it must stick in the mind of the traveler who hears it and it must trip gracefully from the tongue. It may be based upon the character of the train, the name of the road or of the terminal cities or it may be just a name that sounds so well that people will like to say it. These are the only specifications for this matter of making a name can not be hedged about by hard and fast rules. However, Mr. Cutts has absolute confidence that the public will make him spend his $20 or $25, as the case may be, to good advantage. All suggestions should be sent to A. B. Cutts, at the Guaranty building, Minneapolis, before Oct. 31.

WOMAN'S NURSE CORPS.

Surgeon General Rixey Favors Its Establishment for the United States Navy.

The first annual report of Surgeon General Rixey shows that the health of the navy and marine corps was good throughout the last fiscal year, the percentage of sick and the death rate being lower than for several years. The most important recommendation of the report perhaps is that congress provide for the establishment of a woman's nurse corps for the navy to consist of one superintendent, eight head nurses, 16 first-class and 24 second-class nurses, these numbers to be increased at the discretion of the secretary. The surgeon general says: "That women are the superiors of men for the work of nursing there can be no question, and the objection that they are not compatible with military conditions can scarcely apply to institutions of the character of our large naval hospitals."

The surgeon general also makes a strong plea for the appointment of dentists for the navy, pointing out that many otherwise good recruits for the service are lost for lack of dental care.

LIMIT GAMBLING LOSSES.

American Club in London Puts a Ban on Extravagance by Its Members.

The Express prints an account of the rules of the Atlantic club, one of the London ventures for Anglo-American social reunion, which, the paper says, will be opened in January. One rule is that members are not allowed to lose more than $5,000 a week at cards. Both winners and losers must place their card account in the cashier's box before leaving the room. Ready money payments for card transactions will not be allowed. Monday is settling day. No member will be allowed to play after his account has reached $5,000 until it is settled.

ROYAL LITERATURE.

King Edward's second daughter, Princess Charles of Denmark, is making a success in literature from a royalist standpoint. She has written a book, but it has not been printed. It is circulated in manuscript among the crowned heads of Europe. Not to be outdone by her royal literary aunt, Queen Helena of Italy has written a poem, which is to appear shortly in the German review, Berliner Leben. It is entitled, "The Other Crown," and gives the reverse of the medal of royalty as usually seen by popular eyes.

FALLIBILITIES OF SCIENCE.

Lord Kelvin Was Puzzled Over the Impossible Angle of a Ladder Which Couldn't Fall.

At a certain favorite resort in London a conversation among a number of financiers turned upon cable shares and wireless telegraphy. One confirmed cable worshipping quoter, Lord Kelvin's opinion that the companies had no need to be alarmed at the progress of Marconi, relates a London paper. "Oh," exclaimed another, "Lord Kelvin is puzzled. It is not the first time he has made a mistake. Why, I remember years ago when he was plain Billy Thomson, he was out in the country for a ride with his brother. You know he was always like the old fish hag that O'Connell tackled. He slept on a parallelogram, shaved with a spheroid, watched the process of an ellipse and generally took to mathematics to bed with him. Anyhow he never passed anything without making a calculation about it. This time it was a ladder standing against a wall at an angle which according to all known laws ought to be impossible, especially as it stood on smooth concrete at the bottom. He called his brother's attention. They both got down, took measurements, made endless calculations, and considered various theories to account for the absence of slip. At last they fixed on some far-fetched explanation just as the farmer hove in sight. Then they casually called his attention to the strange circumstance. 'Oh, ay,' says the old man, 'the ladder? Yes, I put it there for my hens, and it's pretty tight with the holdfast at the top!'"

Not So Very Crazy.

An Emporia (Kan.) sportsman was out gunning a few days ago, the Gazette says, and happened to go by the poor farm. One of the crazy men they keep out there saw him and began asking him questions. "What have you killed?" asked the crazy fellow. The Emporia man said he had a meadow and two doves. "What did you pay for that gun?" "Sixty dollars." "How much is the dog worth?" "Twenty-five dollars." "An $85 hunting outfit to kill 25 cents' worth of game? They keep me awake up in here when they say it's crazy and they let you run loose. It ain't fair," said the crazy man.

St. Jacobs Oil.

In cases where bronchitis has become chronic from want of proper treatment in the earlier stages, there is nothing so good as Dr. August Koenig's Hamburg Breast Tea, in conjunction with which is strongly advised the use of St. Jacobs Oil as an outward application, along the front of the throat, from close up under the chin to well down to the top of the chest; the one remedy assists the other, and, as intended, they work in complete union. The wonderful penetrating power of St. Jacobs Oil enables it to reach the adhesion of foreign matter which lines the bronchial tubes and which makes breathing more and more difficult. As these adhesions become inflamed and enlarged, St. Jacobs Oil causes such adhesions to break away, making expectoration easier and more free. Dr. August Koenig's Hamburg Breast Tea, drunk slowly and very hot, soothes and heals the parts, is comforting and quieting, stops the cough and relieves the breathing. This manner of treatment (and there is no other two remedies that will work together so successfully) reaches the difficulty from the outside and the inside at the same time. St. Jacobs Oil reaches the roots of the adhesion, and assists Dr. August Koenig's Hamburg Breast Tea in clearing them; then both remedies act in union in healing and curing. The above remarks apply with equal force in cases of asthma, croup, whooping cough, enlarged tonsils, and all bronchial affections. Every family should have St. Jacobs Oil and Dr. August Koenig's Hamburg Breast Tea always in the house in order that they may be promptly used in the first stages. Often the maladies develop with wonderful rapidity, and complications take place with equal suddenness.

GOVERNOR OF OREGON

Uses Pe-ru-na in His Family For Colds and Grip.

CAPITOL BUILDING, SALEM, OREGON.

A Letter From the Executive Office of Oregon.

Pe-ru-na is known from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Letters of congratulation and commendation testifying to the merits of Pe-ru-na as a catarrh remedy are pouring in from every State in the Union. Dr. Hartman is receiving hundreds of such letters daily. All classes write these letters, from the highest to the lowest.

The outdoor laborer, the indoor artisan, the clerk, the editor, the statesman, the preacher—all agree that Pe-ru-na is the catarrh remedy of the age. The stage and rostrum, recognizing catarrh as their greatest enemy, are especially enthusiastic in their praise and testimony.

Any man who wishes perfect health must be entirely free from catarrh. Catarrh is well-nigh universal; almost omnipresent. Pe-ru-na is the only absolute safeguard known. A cold is the beginning of catarrh. To prevent colds, to cure colds, is to cheat catarrh out of its victims. Pe-ru-na not only cures catarrh, but prevents. Every household should be supplied with this great remedy for coughs, colds and so forth.

The Governor of Oregon is an ardent admirer of Pe-ru-na. He keeps it continually in the house. In a recent letter to Dr. Hartman he says:

STATE OF OREGON, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, SALEM, May 9, 1898.

The Pe-ru-na Medicine Co., Columbus, O.

Dear Sirs—I have had occasion to use your Pe-ru-na medicine in my family for colds, and it proved to be an excellent remedy. I have not had occasion to use it for other ailments. Yours very truly, W. M. Lord.

The Preferred Stock of the W. L. Douglas Shoe Co. Capital Stock, $2,000,000. $1,000,000 Preferred Stock. $1,000,000 Common Stock. Shares, $100 each. Sold at Par. Only Preferred Stock offered for sale.

W. L. Douglas retains all Common Stock. The Preferred Stock of the W. L. Douglas Shoe Company is better than Savings Banks or Government Bonds. Every dollar of stock offered the public has behind it more than a dollar's worth of actual assets. W. L. Douglas continues to own one-half of the business, and is to remain the active head of the concern. This business is not an undeveloped prospect. It is a demonstrated dividend-paying business. This is the largest business in the world producing Men's Good Year Well (Hand Sewed Process) shoes, and has always been immensely profitable. There has not been a year in the past twelve when business has not earned actual cash much more than the amount necessary to pay 7 per cent annual dividend on the preferred stock of $1,000,000. The annual business now is $2,000,000, it is increasing very rapidly, and will equal $7,000,000 for the year 1900. The factory is now turning out 100,000 pairs of shoes per day, and an addition to the plant is being built which will increase the capacity to 10,000 pairs per day. The reason I am offering the Preferred Stock for sale is to perpetuate the business. If you wish to invest in the best shoe business in the world, which is permanent, and receive 7 per cent on your money, you can purchase one share or more in this great business. Send three dollars in cash or certified check, made payable to W. L. Douglas. If there is no bank in your town, send money by express or post office money order.
